

2016 ASA Scavenger Hunt

1. Attend a friend's presentation even though it is outside of your area
2. See somebody playing Pokémon Go during a session
3. Make a joke about economists
4. Attend the Sociologists for Justice session on Saturday night
5. Attend a talk in which the presenter is reading from his or her paper with no apparent preparation
6. Check out the poster presentations
7. Time how long it takes the ASA app to load when you haven't used it recently
8. Attend a session with fewer than five audience members
9. Go to a business meeting and sign up for a committee
10. Overhear a sociologist make a racist/sexist/homophobic (etc.) comment
11. Talk to somebody about SJMR
12. Ask a good question in a session
13. Look at somebody's nametag in an obvious way
14. Find the unisex restrooms and rate their implementation on a scale of 1-10
15. Attend DAN and/or a department reception
16. Get a free drink at a section reception
17. Go to the blogging party, say you're John Smith
18. Talk to somebody from a liberal arts school about his or her research
19. Talk to somebody from a research school about his or her teaching
20. Talk to somebody on the job market about his or her ideal job
21. Introduce two people you know to each other
22. For Faculty: Buy a student coffee or a meal
For Students: Accept coffee or a meal from a faculty member
23. Eat a meal alone, confidently
24. Talk to somebody whose name you can't remember
25. Post on social media about ASA
26. Catch up with a colleague from another institution
27. Visit the Space Needle
28. Spend an entire day in Seattle without attending a session
29. Get a coffee at Starbucks, ironically
30. Complain about the heat